Simpson, Joseph Forsyth, and Bagdad Mills.-On appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the district

Mr. Justice WAYNE delivered the opinion of the court. In the argument of this case, the counsel for the appellant put his right to the relief sought by his bill, upon two points. We received than Emmons' pirated patent. The case is before us upon the original bill, and as it was afterwards amended, upon answers and replication. The defendants traverse this allegation of fraud, as fully as persons so situated can do-deny any notice or knowledge about it, when they became the assignees of the invention for a valua-

Gibson, in a joint deposition; one of them we may suppose interested, from not having disavowed it, as his associate Gibson does, "that they called upon Emmons in the city of New York, several years since, and shortly previous to his death, for the purpose of obtaining information in relation to an invention of a planing machine, said to have been invented by him while residing at Syracuse. That he then informed them, that in the year 1824, being engaged in the erection of salt vats at Syracuse, he had contrived a machine by which the plank used for salt vats, could be joined by means of knives upon a revolving cylinder. That he went so far as to satisfy himself, that boards and plank might be joined in that way; but the machine was never so far completed as to perform work with it; that he left Syracuse in July, 1824, and thought no more of the subject, until after William Woodworth had obtained his patent, when he was employed by Toogood, Tyack, and Halstead to defeat it."

Such is the testimony in this record in support of the charge, that the mutual deed of the 28th November, 1829, was obtained by fraud.

It is under that deed, that the defendants claim the right to use the Woodworth machines in their possession. Apart from the insufficiency of such testimony, in combination, or separately, to establish the fraud; if we suppose it had been sworn to by Emmons, it would be only hearsay. not within any exception to the rule rejecting hearsay testi-

It is not so, on account of its being a dying declaration—or one made by Emmons at variance with his interest. Neither can it be brought under the exception, as an admission by one who is a party to a suit with others identified in interest with him; nor as coming from one having any interest in the suit, without being a party to the record with others who are and that Gen. Taylor has truly and honestly kept so. And it is not the admission of one interested in the submatter of the suit, when the law, in regard to that source of evidence, looks chiefly to the parties in interest, and gives to their admissions the same weight, as though they were mons, is merely hearsay-it cannot be made evidence for any purpose of itself, or in connexion with any other proof in the ease not liable to any objection-it can neither aid nor be aided by other evidence. We have put its exclusion on the ground stated, on account of the relations which the record shews Emmons had with some of the parties, rather than upon the little credit, to which such a declaration from him would be entitled; from he applied for, and obtained letters patent, for what he claimed to be his invention.

Let us suppose, however, Emmons to be a competent witness, to avoid an instrument, obtained by the fraudulent devices of himself and his associates; and that, there were independent corroborating proofs in confirmation of his credit not, in any way, have disparaged the right or title of the assignees, under the deed of the 28th December, 1829, their right having been acquired without notice of the fraud which the complainant says was practised upon Woodworth and

The complainant can have no benefit under the first point urged by his counsel. The second point upon which the counsel rely, is, that the defendants, as assignees under the deed, continue to use their machines, in fraud of the law and in violation of the rights of the complainant. The specifications under the general proposition are, that the defendants have substituted first term of Woodworth's patent. That they have reconstructed Woodworth's entire combination in frames of their old machines, or supplied an essential constituent part of it, to continue in use those machines which this court said they had a right to use as assignces, when this case was before it apon certified points, in the year 1846. 4 How., 709, 711.

There is no proof of either the first or second specification But the questions, which were argued by counsel, when re-pairs destroy identity and encroach upon invention, or when the thing patented ceases to exist, so as to exclude the repair or replacement of any one part of its combination, in connexion with the rest of it, not requiring repair, or to be replaced, are before the court upon the evidence in the record. We admit, for such is the rule in Wilson and Rousseau, exist, in whatever way that may occur, that the right to renew it depends upon the right to make the invention. If the

But it does not follow, when one of the elements of the combination has become so much worn as to be inoperative, or has been broken, that the machine no longer exists for restoration to its original use, by the owner who has bought its use. When the wearing or injury is partial, then repair is restoration and not reconstruction.

Illustrations of this will occur to any one, from the frequent repairs of many machines for agricultural purposes. Also from the repair and replacement of broken or worn out parts of larger and more complex combinations for manufactures.

In either case, repairing partial injuries, whether they occur from accident or from wear and tear, is only refitting a machine for use. And it is no more than that, though i shall be a replacement of an essential part of a combination. It is the use of the whole of that, which a purchaser buys, when the patentee sells to him a machine; and when he reapplication to the point we are considering, will be found in the answers which every one will give to two enquiries. The right to repair and replace in such a case, is either in it, than the purchaser has a right to repair, who has, in the whole of it, a right of use? And what harm is done to the which the purchaser has bought.

Nothing is gained against our conclusion, by its being said that the combination is the thing patented, and that when a part of it, that the invention in the particular machine i suspended by the want of one of them, and its restoration reproduces the same result only, without the machine having been made anew. Of course, when we speak of the right to Of course, when we speak of the right to restore a part of a deficient combination, we mean the part of one entirely original, and not of any other patented thing which has been introduced into it to aid its intended perform-

Wilson and Rousseau's case in 4 How., was very fully considered by this court. There were differences of opinion between the judges, as to the interest which assignees of an invention had in it under the 18th section of the act of 1836; after the expiration of the first term of a patent, when there had been a renewal and extension of it. But it certainly did not occur to either of us that the language then used by the court, and afterwards in Simpson et al vs. Wilson, could need but sleepeth.'

It does not permit an assignee of the first term of a patent, after its renewal and extension, to make other machines, or to reconstruct it, in gross, upon the frames of machines which who has long shared and watched public affairs in

The right to replace them was a part of the invention transferred to the assignee for the time that he bought it, without which his purchase would have been useless to him, except for sixty or ninety days after a machine had been put in use. It has not been contended, nor can it be, that such that can be a limitation of the assignees right in the use of the 28th November, 1829, for which no other consideration was constituent parts of this invention, though liable to be worn out, are not made with reserence to any use of them which will require them to be replaced. These, without having a definite duration, are contemplated by the inventor to last so long as the materials of which they are formed can hold together in use in such a combination. No replacement of them at intermediate intervals is meant or is necessary. They may be repaired as the use may require. With such intentions they are put into the structure. So it is understood by when they became the assignees of the invention for a valuable consideration. The complainant then must establish his charge by proofs. We think it has not been done.

The proof relied upon is, that though Emmons received a chief for what he claimed to be his invention, it was subsequently proved to be identical with the principle of Woodworth's machine, and had been pirated from it. That at the time Emmons applied for a patent, he had not, in any way, carried his machine into such a practical result, either in a model or execution, as to entitle him to letters patent. To this is added, the declaration of two witnesses, Harris and this is added, the declaration of two witnesses, Harris and meant it to be used, and in the only way in which the machine can be used.

Such a replacement of temporary parts does not alter the identity of the machine, but preserves it, though there may not be in it every part of its original material. Such being the case, and this court having determined, that the statute providing for the extention and renewal of patents, saves the rights of assignees in the use of the machines which they may have in operation when the extention takes effect; we do not think that the defendants in this case, from having replaced cutter knives in their machines, have been using them in fraud of the law, or in a violation of the rights of the complainant.

We shall, therefore, direct the decree of the court below, dismissing the complainants bill, to be affirmed.

WM. THOS. CARROLL, C. S. C. U. S. From the Baltimore Republican and Argus. Proscription of Gen. Taylor.

It has been a long time since we noticed the proscriptive course of Gen. Taylor's no-party administration. We have not, however, been inattentive to the bold and reckless untruths of Truman Smith, in his attempt to shield Gen. Taylor from the brand of hypocrisy and falsehood which the voice of public opinion had stamped upon him. This manager of the corruption fund-this dispenser of electioneering bribes has, with an impudence without parallel, attempted to distort the facts and to show that even the pledges which he made during the Presidential campaign. During the first three years of the adminismade for cause or without cause. This was "ruthless, wanton, horrible proscription," in the estimation of honest whiggery. Let us see what Gen. Taymachines for those used by them, before the expiration of the lor has done in his short term of one year. According to Mr. Truman Smith's own showing, this antiproscriptive-no-party administration which came in. according to Mr. Crittenden, "to proscribe proscription"-this most liberal, HUMANE and gentle administration of Zachary Washington has removed, in one single department of the government, THREE THOU-SAND FOUR HUNDRED AND SIX, while the whole amount of removals under Gen. Jackson, during eight years of his relentless proscription, was 491. With such facts as these brought from the records, what must be thought of the hardihood of that man or party How., that when the material of the combination ceases to who could rail against Gen. Jackson for proscription and uphold Gen. Taylor for his liberality—yet, a lit-tle further, the tables show that in 1829, when Gen. right to make does not exist, there is no right to rebuild the Jackson came into office, there were in the different departments at Washington FIFTY-SIX Democratic clerks and 240 Federalists, or Whigs, as they since that time call themselves. On the 4th of March. 1841, there were in those same departments 224 Democrats and 276 Whigs; showing, after twelve years of proscription and alienation of the poor, persecuted Whigs, that there remained still a large majority of them in office. But one step further; on the 4th of March, 1841, the salaries of the Democratic clerks in all the departments at Washington amounted to $286,715, while those of the poor, persecuted alien Whigs amounted to the sum of $331, 328-showing, then, at the close of Mr. Van Buren's pairs the damages which may be done to it, it is no more than the exercise of that right of care which every one may use to give duration to that which he owns, or has a right to use as three months after the inauguration of Gen. Harrison. three months after the inauguration of Gen. Harrison, this excess of Whig salaries was increased to the sum of $114.313. These are some of the facts in the case, and we might go on to show the utter falsity of the charges made against the Democratic administrapatentee a more equitable right to force the disuse of the ma-chine entirely, on account of the inoperativeness of a part of scription of the present incumberts and incumberers of the high posts of the nation. We have thought patentee in the use of his right of invention, when the repair and replacement of a partial injury is confined to the machine of our friends, that they might be prepared to meet the reckless charges of Whig demagogues, and place the character of the champions of Democracy on their true and lofty position. If any of our readers desire to see a fuller expose of the frauds and falsehoods of extinct. It is not so. Consisting of parts, its action is only Truman Smith and his Whig colleagues, we refer

The stiblect of Woodworth's Patent for planing boards, has lately attracted considerable attention in the assignee had in use when the renewal and extension of the patent took effect. But it does comprehend and permit the request of a gentleman interested in the matter, we publish the following Opinion of the Court in the case carried up from the State of Louisiana, as follows:

his right to the relief sought by his bill, upon two points. We will consider them in the order they were presented.

The appellant's first point is, that the title and right of the defendants to use the Woodworth invention, is taken from them by the fraud and artifice of Emmons, Tyack, Toogood, and Halstead, in procuring from Woodworth and Strong the deed of the 28th December, 1829. (Rec. 51, 52.)

The fraud alleged in the bill is, that Emmons having pirated Woodworth's invention, contrived, by misrepresentation, to get a patent for the same, and in conjunction with Toogood, Halstead, and Tyack, falsely, and fraudulently represented to only of so much of it as is absolutely necessary to identify the machine with what it was in the beginning of its use, or before that part of it had been worn out.

Woodworth, and to Strong, his assignee, that Emmons was the first inventor of the planing machine, for which Woodworth had received the first patent; and that Woodworth and streag, regarding it possible that such might be the fact, not empecting any fraudulent device, and fearing, notwithstanding Woodworth knew the invention to be his own, it might be established against him, executed the agreement of the be established against him, executed the agreement of the path of the second not be established against him, executed the agreement of the be established against him, executed the agreement of the path of the assignee to replace the cutter knives is not, because they are of perishable materials; but because the inventor of the machine could not be continued in use without a succession of knives at short intervals.

> THE STATE VS. GEORGE J. BULLOCH .- An interesting question, in connection with this case, was discussed yesterday afternoon before his Honor Judge Jackson. The question arose on an objection by defendant's counsel to the array of the Grand Jury .They contended that stockholders of the Central Rail Road and Banking Company were disqualified proptes affectum from acting upon the case as members of the Grand Jury, and that the same objection applied to every citizen of Savannah, inasmuch as the city in its municipal capacity was a stockholder

It was replied, that the objection might be good in a civil, but not in a criminal case, where the State, and not the Bank, was the party prosecuting, and further, that if the position of the defendant's counsel were right, then the State of Georgia, being a stockholder in the State Bank, could not prosecute ty, the propriety of their sending three delegates from each any man who robbed it, because every citizen in the of their respective precincts, to said convention; and that State would be interested in the case. GEO. H. KELLEY'S. SUPERIOR SODA OR MINERAL WATER.

A. C. EVANS & BROTHER respectfully announce to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Wilmington, that with great care and expense, they have perfected their arrangements for supplying a superior article of Soda Water, either from the Fountain, or put up in bottles for family use.

Every care has been taken in the selection of materials and SIMPLE CURE FOR CROUP.—If a child is taken with croup, instantly apply cold water, ice if possible, suddenly and freely to the neck and chest, with a sponge. The breathing will almost instantly be relieved. So soon as possible, let the sufferer drink as much as it can; then wipe it dry, cover it up warm, and soon a quiet slumber will relieve the parent's anxiety—Journal of Health.

Every care has been taken in the selection of materials and the preparation of Syrups, to render this article what it is represented to be, and we believe it equal to any made. We have the following Syrups at the Fountain: Lemon, Sarsaparilla, Ginger, Orange, Pine Apple, Orgent.

Our operator, Mf. Stenland, has commenced flottling this day, and orders from town or country will meet with prompt attention, at New York prices.

The Sheriffalty.

We are authorized to announce THOS. H. WILelection.

We are authorized to announce GEORGE ALDER-MAN as a candidate for Sheriff at the ensuing election. March 15, 1850

Voters of New Hanover-I announce myself a candidate for the Sheriffalty of your County, and solicit your votes at the ensuing election.

S. D. WALLACE. March 8, 1850 Papers of the town will copy till otherwise ordered. To the Independent Voters of New Hanover County :

FELLOW-CITIZENS-In accordance with the wishes of number of my friends, I beg leave to offer myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff. Should you honor me with your suffrages, I pledge myself to discharge its duties with fidelity G. J. MOORE. and impartiality. New Hanever county, Feb'y 22, 1850

Town papers please copy till election.

Fellow. Citizens of New-Hanover County : Gentlemen-At the approaching August election, it is your province to select an officer to act in the capacity of Sheriff. This is an early period, as I conceive, to agitate this election. although there is quite a number of candidates in the field. and more expected. The county is notified that a Convention will be held during the term of our next County Court, for the purpose of nominating County candidates; and as conceive all candidates who presume to announce for the Sheriffalty before that convention goes into session, says to that Convention, that they will not abide its action; I conceive that it is soon enough to aver what we will do when we see what action that body takes of the different offices of the county. I am, perhaps, as anxious to be possessed of the Sheriff's office as any candidate announced, but think it unadvisable to make the announcement at the present. If should think it advisable to announce myself to you after the meeting of the Convention, and the result of the election should go in my favor, my motto shall be, to do justice to the office and to the people, and will ever feel grateful for the confidence reposed, and willing to reciprocate the favor as far

as may be honorable. I conceive it incumbent on every voter, before the election. to obtain information from reliable authority, who of the candidates is most deserving and capable and best qualified, in every respect, to take charge of the office. These are enquiries, as I conceive, that every voter should make, before going to the polls of election, and then let his influence and suffrage be governed accordingly.

Gentlemen, I conceive it unnecessary to say more to you there is nothing that I could say, as I know of, that would in sinuate me in your favour. All, or the most of you, are intimately acquainted with me. It is for you to say whether am capable and well qualified to fill the office, or not-whether I am tiranical and oppressive, or lenient and accomdating in business transactions. That portion of the electors that may not be acquainted with me, or know but little about me, I would respectfully request that they would call on my friends in Wilmington, and on gentlemen from my own district of the county,

Very respectfully, your fellow-citizen. 35-11 JAMES HARRELL May 9th, 1850. WILMINGTON, N. C., MAY 8, 1850.

To the Voters of New-Hanover County : GENTLEMEN—Through the solicitations of a number of mermenus, 1 again appear before you as a candidate for the office of Sheriff of your County; and in doing so, I deem it proper to make a few remarks relative to the position I now occupy ers and shippers at prices ranging within quotations. The before you. Some time ago, I told a number of my friends market is dull. Millers only buy as their wants require. The that I would not again be a candidate for the office. But stock on hand is considered ample for demands. See table since making those declarations, I have been placed in different circumstances, through the interposition of an all-wise and unerring Providence. I believe by my making those dec-names are before you to become candidates for the office PORK .- Our quotations for barrel pork must be understood In appearing before you again as a caudidate, I have no duties of the office to the best of my abilities, should a majority of my fellow-citizens think it proper to give me their votes.

I am, gentlemen, most respectfully, your ob't serv't, OWEN FENNELL. [35-te] Chronicle, Aurora and Commercial, copy till election.
